DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 4 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. More specifically claim 4 recites having a cantilevered bracket, which is previously disclosed in claim 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The term "extending substantially there above" in claim 1 is a relative term, which renders the claim indefinite. The term "extending substantially there above" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. More specifically, it is unclear as to what qualifies as extending substantially there above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Field (4574614).

Referring to claims 1. Field discloses an “Apparatus For Repairing And Straightening Vehicles” as claimed. See Figs. 1-20 and respective portions of the specification. Field further discloses two parallel transverse assemblies (252) comprising two spaced apart parallel crossbeams (276) with four sides, a pair of end plates (258, 259) fastened to the first ends of the crossbeams and the other fastened to the second end of the crossbeam to maintain a constant spaced apart relation while forming a solid connection between the two crossbeams, a transverse channel formed by the space between the crossbeams (See Fig. 10), a pair of opposing frame anchor assemblies (290) slidably disposed within the transverse channel and resting on top sides of the crossbeams and extending substantially thereabove enabling the frame anchor assemblies to be selectively positioned along the longitudinal axis of the crossbeams to accommodate the width of the frame of the vehicle to be raised and to bear the weight thereof (See Col. 8 l. 32 – Col 9 l. 22 & Fig. 10).

Referring to claim 2. Field discloses the invention as disclosed above.

Furthermore Field discloses a substantially horizontal bearing plate (278) integral with the frame anchor wherein the bearing plate is seated on top side of the crossbeam to maintain a vertical position of the frame anchor assembly even when under a load and a means (282) for securing the frame anchor assembly to prevent lateral movement thereof along the longitudinal axis of the treadway and discloses that teeth elements (298) of first jaw (294) engage rocker panel (254) of the vehicle (See Col. 9 l. 15-17 & Fig. 2)

Referring to claim 10. Field discloses a that the end plates (259) has a retaining flange (264) extending perpendicularly from the top portion thereof to rest on the frame rack to relieve pressure on the bolts to prevent them from shearing.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fields.

Art Unit: 3654

Referring to claim 9. Fields does not disclose that the treadway includes a space element medially positioned within the transverse channel and communicating between crossbeams. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the apparatus of Fields and include a spacer element though so that the width between crossbeams could be set with enough room for the frame anchors to be positioned but to remain stabilized as well.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-8 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Mabry U.S. Patent No. 6471009 discloses a "Universal Saddle for a Lift" comprising a base, crossbeams, a transverse channel, sliding plates and a frame anchor assembly.
